

THE HIDDEN COST OF DIY plants

We've all been there; thinking it can't be that hard to keep this plant alive, knowing deep down that there is hope in our hearts and lies coming from our mouths. "This time will be different," we whisper, as if the plant knows this is its final goodbye to its friends. We tell ourselves we're responsible now. We've Googled "how much sunlight is indirect sunlight," and we've definitely skimmed a whole Pinterest board about indoor gardening!

But flash forward two weeks and the once thriving plant now looks like its been through a nasty divorce or tax season. We water it too much. Or not at all. We move it to the window. Then away from the window. We love bomb it.

Then ghost it.

Basically we promise it love and light... and give it stress and confusion. Welcome to the universal experience of unintentional plant slaughter.

Imagine attempting all of this while also trying to run a business? Making sure the new hire was actually a good idea, the never ending emails that burn your eye sockets, and being pulled more directions than you ever thought possible. Sounds like a car crash waiting to happen. These are just some of the reasons why you should hire us!

Why hire Magnolia Plantscapes?

- Protect your investment
- Trained experts= healthier plants
- Peace of mind
- Avoid costly mistakes
- Use that time to focus on your business!

Think about it this way. Bad design choices = Poor brand impression. On top of that, improper care can lead to mold, pests, and dead plants!

Dead plants = WASTED $$$.

You shouldn't have to set calendar reminders to water your office plants. Let us handle it while you focus on what you do best. Professional plant technicians know exactly how much water, light, and nutrients your plants need. Many businesses think they can maintain their own plants until the leaves start falling off. Hiring a professional plant service means no stress and a better image for your workplace.
